

EMERGENCY PROTEST:

TAX THE RICH TO FUND FREE EDUCATION & LIVING GRANTS FOR ALL

- £200 million “missing” from the governments budget for higher education
- Billions in bail outs for the bankers

We have seen year-on-year attacks on our right for an education. The latest are cuts to thousands of student grants after a £200 million short-fall from the Department of Innovation, Universities and Schools.

This comes only a few weeks after the government promised to bail out bankers with billions of tax payer’s money.

FRIDAY 14 NOVEMBER

Assemble 3pm, outside Westminster Cathedral,
Victoria Street – 5 minutes east of Victoria Station.
(To march to the government’s Department of Universities (DIUS))

CALLED BY ANOTHER EDUCATION IS POSSIBLE

EMERGENCY PROTEST:

TAX THE RICH TO FUND FREE EDUCATION & LIVING GRANTS FOR ALL

- £200 million “missing” from the governments budget for higher education
- Billions in bail outs for the bankers

We have seen year-on-year attacks on our right for an education. The latest are cuts to thousands of student grants after a £200 million short-fall from the Department of Innovation, Universities and Schools.

This comes only a few weeks after the government promised to bail out bankers with billions of tax payer’s money.

FRIDAY 14 NOVEMBER

Assemble 3pm, outside Westminster Cathedral,
Victoria Street – 5 minutes east of Victoria Station.
(To march to the government’s Department of Universities (DIUS))

CALLED BY ANOTHER EDUCATION IS POSSIBLE